WELCOME

My name is Courtney Jackson. I founded RISE to address the unique fundraising needs of startup and small to mid-sized nonprofits that do not have the resources for full-time development staff. I've spent nearly ten years in the public sector working to raise money for organizations of all sizes, from large educational institutions to small grassroots movements. What I love about working with nonprofits is the passion behind every mission.

Nonprofits employees and volunteers work tirelessly to deliver vital services to their communities. And yet, clients tell me one of their biggest struggles remains: "how do we make sure our organization is sustainable for years to come?" That's where RISE comes in — I'm here to lend a helping hand so you can keep focused on your mission.

Sincerely yours,

Courtney Jackson
